The International Business Management program prepares students for executive positions in international companies or in subsidiaries that specialize in international markets. A generalist program, all company functions are covered during the cursus and students learn about the various different operational stages involved when a company goes global.

In addition to the fundamental knowledge and skills essential for international managers today, students also have the opportunity to specialize in their sector of interest and to apply the theory learned in the real working world.

The International Business Management program also represents a great opportunity to live a multicultural experience in and outside the classroom, thus revealing the reality of working in a multicultural and multilingual environment. An average of 15 nationalities are represented per cohort and students are able to discuss current, global issues with people from different backgrounds, and as a result, gain a truly international outlook.

The Master’s degree in International Business Management is dedicated to the general field of international business management with a specialization in geopolitics and cross cultural management. This generalist program has a strong analysis-oriented focus, aimed at understanding the global business environment.

An extensive first semester curriculum, based on theoretical learning, provides a clear understanding of the real challenges facing managers and organizations operating in a global context. The second semester focuses on practical experience with a 6-month internship, to be carried out in France preferably.
Program structure

Various teaching and assessment methods are used. During seminars, a variety of teaching/learning methods are used: course-work based assessment such as exercises, case studies and group projects, oral presentations (both written and oral) as well as tests and a final report on the internship completed in the second semester.

Some classes mix international students with French students from the French version of the International Business Management program.
